

STUDENTS UNDERGOING RESEARCH PROJECTS, INTERNSHIPS AND FIELD PROJECTS

RESEARCH PROJECTS

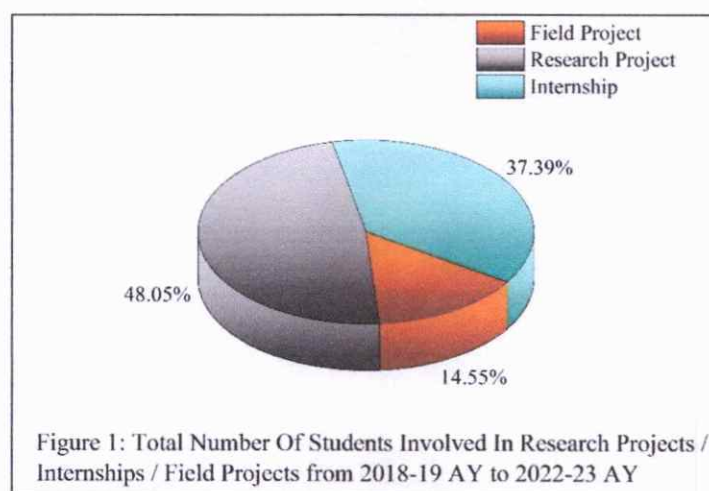

In order to cultivate research aptitudes among students, research projects have been integrated into the course structure and curriculum of most of the undergraduate and all post graduate programs.

INTERNSHIPS

Starting in 2018, the internship has been included to the postgraduate program to establish a relationship between industry and academia. This improves the pupils' chances of being placed. For this reason, the Departments have partnered and joined forces with various organizations and sectors of the economy. The Departments of Physiotherapy and Legal Studies have signed three significant Memorandums of Understanding in recent years for benefitting enhancing student's technical skills in respective academia. Research projects and internships is an integral part of UG and PG programmes since the beginning.

FIELD PROJECTS

Field Projects have been incorporated into the course structure / curriculum of the faculty of agriculture and faculty of health & allied sciences bringing in field trips for giving practical exposure to the students.
